“ After George moved to Fairfield in his later years, our family used to have him come spend Holiday dinners with us as he had no family, growing up an only child and no spouse. He was a very kind man, quiet but so friendly. After a particularly boisterous holiday (Easter maybe?) with many young children underfoot, George’s attendance at our family gatherings became less frequent, but my older brother Ken always made sure to take George a big plate piled with goodies from our family feasts. Such a wonderful man. Still miss him.

“ My family Emil and Alice Kalvoda lived to the north of George and his sister a 1 mile maybe...very nice neighbors we used to visit them when I was a kid growing up...he was very particular of his car and such keeping them spotless and in good running order...never knew where he was when they closed the Edgar nursing home not that long ago...he or they were good neighbors...didn't know if he had any remaining relatives...hope he had a good life and may he rest in peace... “ Dick's mother (Mary Jedounek Snell) was George's cousin. We only met George this past May while I was working on the Jedounek genealogy. I am so appreciative of the photos, articles and information George so readily gave me. Three weeks ago, it was my privilege to be able to share with him the book of the Jedounek/Koukal family history that I had created from the information I had gathered thus far. Dick and I grew very fond of George and realized why everyone we met who knew him thought highly of him. He will be missed.
